How to Care for Your Travertine

MAINTAINING TRAVERTINE IS EASY.

Travertine, like most other porous natural stones, needs to be sealed on a regular basis. Due to their porosity, many natural stones are susceptible to staining and sealing them on a regular basis greatly reduces the chances of stains.

Cleaning travertine can be done simply with mild soap and water. Common name brand cleaners that state natural stone as one of their applications are also acceptable. Bleach and heavy duty cleaners are not recommended and can damage the travertine while using them to for cleaning.
